

NEED TO KNOW: LAX TERMINAL CHANGES

Beginning in May, Los Angeles International Airport (LAX) will undergo the biggest relocation operation in the airport's storied history. Starting on May 12, Delta Air Lines will relocate from Terminals 5 and 6 to Terminals 2 and 3. The move is expected to affect 21 carriers overall, accounting for approximately one-third of all airlines that operate out of LAX. The transition will be implemented over three nights (May 12, May 14, and May 16), with each airline beginning operations from its new location the following morning. The terminal shuffle is a precursor to Delta's Sky Way, a $1.9 billion plan to modernize and upgrade the terminals (including the Tom Bradley International Terminal) over the next seven years.

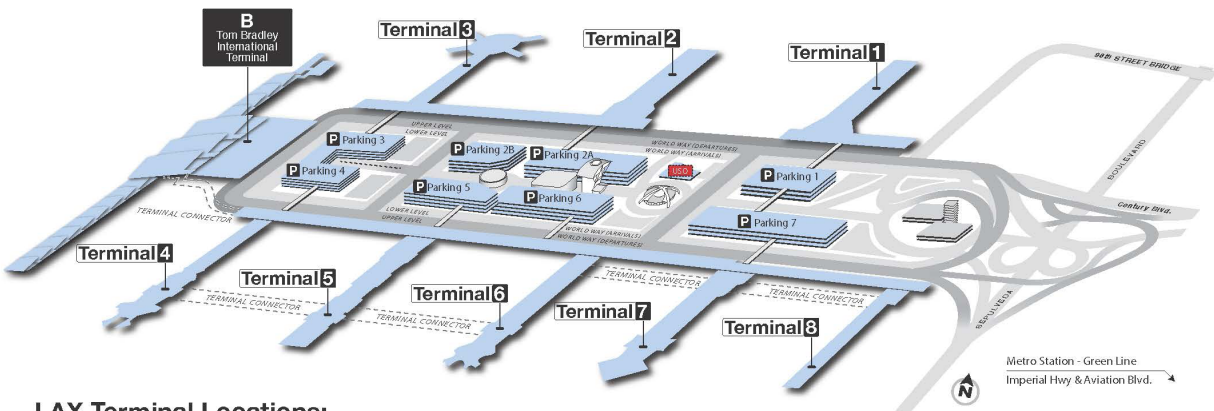

During the transition, travelers should check to see which terminal their flight departs from, as many airlines will be operating out of new terminals.

IMPORTANT TIPS

- Check-in online, print a boarding pass, and reconfirm terminal and gate numbers before going to LAX.
- When entering the airport, look for signs directing you to the correct terminal.
- Once at LAX, check flight and gate status on display boards in each terminal.
- Plan ahead and allow extra time for walking. Some flights have check-in at one terminal with departure from another.
- After check-in, some airlines will bus passengers to a different terminal for departure.
